WHERE RACING HELPS THE FARMER.

The New York State Racing Commissioners, Messrs. August Belmont, Edwin D. Morgan and John Sanford, presented their annual report to the New York legislature last Friday. It is replete with interest and shows conclusively that the agricultural societies of the state are immensely benefitted and sustained by the revenue derived from the tax on the receipts of the jockey clubs. Pity it is that the agricultural and fair associations of the state of Illinois are not now similarly nourished by the racing organizations of Chicago. In part the report says:

"In the five years over which the term of the commission extends there has been paid in to the state comptroller for distribution among the agricultural societies the sum of $311,139.04. A review of this tax by years will illustrate the progress of racing in this state. In 1895 the tax was $25,220.74. This was the first year of the new order. The racing associations were somewhat doubtful of its practicability, and the public had to be educated to see that this new order did not destroy racing, but simply transferred it to a surer basis. Six associations held licenses that year.

"In 1896 the tax was $50,608.10, and in that year only five associations held meetings. A license had been issued to the Saratoga association, but because of local reasons it did not take advantage of it, although it has conducted meetings annually since. In 1897 the tax was $64,034.64, and in 1898 it was $80,433.85, and in 1899 it was $90,791.71, making a grand total of $311,139.04. This represents aggregate gross receipts of $6,222,780.80, or an average annual total gross receipts of $1,244,556.16.

"It would be vain to hope for any such increase in ratio of receipts in the succeeding five years, but there is every reason to expect that the present popular interest in the sport will continue to such an extent at least as will make the revenues of 1899 not an extravagant standard.

"The commission appends a table, showing the state tax for agricultural societies paid in by the several associations during the years in which they held licenses. They show that this racing tax paid in by the Westchester Racing Association was $57,656.63, that by the Coney Island Jockey Club $87,943.33, that by the Brooklyn Jockey Club $75,831.87, that by the Brighton Beach Racing Association $52,030.16, that by the Saratoga Association for the Improvement of the Breed of Horses $17,370.86, and that by the Queens County Jockey Club $20,306.22. This tax has been paid in promptly, and goes in gross into the hands of the Comptroller. The commissioners act without compensation, the only expenses being the salary of secretary and fees for counsel, and these are paid by special assessment on the associations receiving licenses.

"In further treating on the material prosperity of the sport and consequently of enlarged and more profitable markets for the breeder and wider opportunities for the owners of thoroughbreds, the commission says:

"In 1895 and in 1896, which might be termed the experimental years of the new order, there was little profit, but there was sufficient to maintain the breeder. Once racing was established beyond peradventure there were new purchasers in the field, the racing associations were enabled to offer larger premiums and horses began to command a price commensurate with their earning capacity. The gross total of premiums which went to the successful horses has increased in proportion to the increase of public patronage, until in this state last year the large sum of $1,100,000 was so distributed. This is an increase in round figures over 1895 of about $125,000 and approximately over 1897 of $300,000. Some idea of the growth of the sport which makes such a condition possible may be found in the fact that in 1895, the first year of operation under the Racing code, the total gross receipts of all the associations holding licenses from the commission amounted in all to only $504,414.50.

"Favorable comment is made on this increase in the premium list and in the framing of new and valuable stakes by associations. The efforts made to enhance the value of fillies by the formation of more stakes for their sex and by the division of produce stakes so that colts may run in one division and the fillies in a division by themselves are commended, and so are the breeders who have formed themselves into an association and subscribed the capital for the purpose of buying up the mares of insufficient standard, destroying their pedigrees and disposing of them for farm and other purposes.

"The report summarizes the various legal actions which led up to the affirmation of the constitutionality of the law and which were discussed at length in former reports, and lays particular stress upon the point that the stability of racing in this state was the one thing which saved the breeding industry after the period of inflation which culminated in 1894, and that its operation under official direction was what drew to it many men now in it for recreation or for business, and was what was needed for public confidence and concludes its remarks on this point by saying:

"It is history that racing only can flourish as it ought under one of two conditions—either where the traditions of long years sustain it, as is the case in some European countries, or where it exists upon the express authorization of law, as it does in the state of New York."

Winner—B. f., by The Judge—Sacharissa. Went to post at 1:30. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won handily; second the same. Sachroid got away well in her stride and opened up such a gap in the first quarter that she could not be caught. Sublime closed round steadily and ran a good race. Aphrodis finished very fast and with a stronger rider could have won. Merida was rushed too fast in the first quarter and tired in the stretch. Bavassa was slow in getting to going well but finished strongly.

Scratched—17059 Lurayo, 113; 17261 Illusion, 107; 17240 Location, 103. Overweights—Girly Ducat, 2 pounds. Sachroid, place, 20 to 1; show, 8 to 1. Sublime, place, 3 to 1; show, 3 to 2. Aphrodis, show, 2 to 1. Merida, place, 4 to 5; show, 2 to 5. Bavassa, place, evens; show, 1 to 2.

Winner—Ch. g., by Duke of Norfolk—Carmen. Went to post at 2:00. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won driving; second easily. True Blue was never so good as he is now. He was well ridden and finished stronger than usual. St. Casimir would have won if Henry had not kept looking around instead of attending strictly to his business. Ella Boland could never get close after getting off rather poorly. Theory showed plenty of speed for a half then quit. Alas was weakly ridden.

Scratched—17118 Lady Heloise, 104. Overweights—Pidalia, 5 pounds; Bona, 5. True Blue, place, 4 to 1; show, 2 to 1. St. Casimir, place, 1 to 2; show, out. Ella Boland, show, 1 to 2.

Catastrophe went to the front when given his head and taking the rail was never after in trouble. Potente was ridden hard through the last three furlongs but his four mile race has dulled his speed. He was claimed for $25 by A. Simons. Orion ran well for six furlongs and then fell back steadily. Morinel came from far back in the stretch run. Colonel Root ran his race. Lothian showed but little speed and looked unfit to race. He was claimed for $25 by C. E. Durnell.

Went to post at 4:00. At post 2 minutes. Start good. The first four finished in a close, hard drive. Croker was well handled. His rider made his move from the head of the homestretch, winning on the outside. He bumped Fille d'Or near the finish. Fashion Plate finished fast and may win soon. Be Happy might have won if Bozeman had been without a whip. He was busy whipping for nearly three furlongs. Fille d'Or would have been second but for Croker bumping her. Henry C. closed strongly.
